Shane Carter Purely poles; Polework is a way of making flat work more interesting. It develops the horse's core stability. It also works on the top line and improves his suppleness by encouraging him to step through more with the hindleg. It is good for horses that tend to rush and helps to develop a rhythm. Polework is also good for improving balance, control and steering.

Open to all. BDRC members £15 and Non members £20.. For further details contact Shane on 07702745171

Teams If you are interested in being on a team for any of the Area qualifiers, please email Dinah Smith on nickanddinah@yahoo.com
