

Jason Webb at Bedgebury

Australian Horsemanship for novice horses

With over twenty years of experience, Jason's main love remains as working with and starting young horses. Much in demand by studs and professional and amateur riders alike, Jason provides exceptional results in a short space of time. Treating each horse as an individual but working to the same system and 'checklist', he starts the potential Grand Prix dressage horse, to the racehorse, to the happy hacker in the same calm, firm way, ensuring the horse and rider have the best possible chance to go on to be a success in their chosen discipline.

All queries and bookings to be made directly with Jason Webb via his website www.australianhorsetraining.co.uk.

Confidence and control clinics

Wednesday 21st December and Tuesday 17th January. This is an afternoon clinic and each group lasts for approximately 1.5 hours. The confidence clinic is suitable for anyone wishing to improve their general horsemanship skills and to expose their horse to a group clinic environment. Click to book.

Coffee morning and demonstration

Tuesday 10th January, all welcome no need to book 11am to 1pm £5 entry (children free) for a two hour demonstration using the horses we currently have on training from remedial problems to young horses.

Ground handling clinic

Thursday 26th January followed by the Ridden clinic Friday 27th January. These two days follow a logical progression through each Level with the groundwork linking strongly to the ridden work. Although best completed as a series, they are also very effective as individual day courses. Click to book.

To book and for more information about Jason's methods visit www.australianhorsetraining.co.uk

Bedgebury Park, Lady Oak Lane, Goudhurst, Kent TN17 2SH
T 01580 211 602 E info@bedgeburypark.com

find us